MARKED SCARCITY OF PEDAGOGUES

MORE SCHOOLS THAN THERE ARE TEACHERS

Superintendent Eaton Outlines Peculiar Situation in Educational Circles of West—Substitutes Wanted.

F. H. Eaton, superintendent of Victoria schools, has requested those residing in the city who would be willing to act as substitute teachers during the winter months to submit their names without loss of time. To a Times reporter Mr. Eaton explained that the reason he has been forced to take this action is that there are very few instructors available, in fact all those holding the required certificates are employed and there are rural schools unable to procure anyone competent to take charge. He is quite willing to accept for substitute work individuals without the qualifications which a British Columbia teacher is usually required to possess. "Never before," he states, "has there been such a marked excess in the demand over the supply. The same tendency Mr. Eaton affirms is apparent throughout the Dominion. In recent years there were so many members of the profession on the lookout for employment throughout Ontario and the Maritime provinces that the salaries were reduced almost to the starvation point. Although there was not exactly a dearth of teachers in those sections now a gradual change appeared to be taking place. The strain was not as perceptible. He could not say that the penitence was increasing but he knew that there were not as many teachers out of work as heretofore.

Mr. Eaton constantly receives communications from pedagogues residing at different points throughout the Eastern Canadian provinces, individuals seeking information as to the conditions prevailing in the West in their particular line. In past years he hesitated before advising them to come to British Columbia. Now, however, his attitude is entirely altered. He has no diffidence about informing them that they would have no difficulty in obtaining situations in British Columbia. They are told that rural positions, with a remuneration of six hundred per annum approximately, are always open for the person with the necessary certificates. But despite the fact that outsiders are continually coming from the east the situation continues as bad as and worse than heretofore.

A POLICE CAMPAIGN.

All Objectionable Characters Are Being Notified to Leave Victoria.

This morning two dark-skinned women, inmates of Chatham street bawdy houses, appeared before Magistrate Hall and paid the usual fine. They form the last of a gang of ten or twelve of the same character, who have come to Victoria within the past few weeks, and have been promptly notified by the police that their company is not appreciated. Chief Langley is determined that this objectionable class shall not obtain a foothold in this city and the carrying out of that programme has kept him busy during the past few days. He states that the negroes threaten to be coming up from the south to Seattle in large numbers. Reaching the latter place there are quite a few and they way across the straits.

FARMERS HOLDING FALL MEETINGS

AGRICULTURAL EXPERTS TO DELIVER ADDRESSES

Regular Sessions Opened Last Night With Two Gatherings on Van- couver Island.

The regular fall meetings of the Farmers' Institutes started last night with two gatherings held simultaneously at Gordon Head and Parkfield. Both were well attended, and the one in the vicinity of Victoria particularly so. At Gordon Head the principal address was made by Prof. E. R. Lake, of the Agricultural University of Oregon, who spoke as his subject, "The Cultivation of Fruit." Miss Rose and Messrs. Elliott and McKillop addressed the meeting at Parkfield.

Interpreter for Chinese Lepers

HAS BEEN STATIONED ON DARCY ISLAND

Superintendent of William Head Quar- antine Returns—Dr. Montzambert Coming This Evening.

Dr. Hugh Watt, superintendent of the William Head quarantine station, arrived home from Ottawa and other eastern points last evening, and was accompanied west as far as Vancouver by Dr. F. Montzambert, Dominion medical health officer. The latter is on his annual trip of inspection. Asked with regard to the leper station, Dr. Watt said this morning that this would remain where it has always been, on Darcy Island. "It was never decided to place it in any other location," he stated, "and there was really no need for all the agitation which started some time ago when it was moved to Albert Head. The government had asked for a report on suitable places for a lazaretto, and before this was in the commission relative to Albert Head had started. The report dealt with a number of available places, but no recommendation for the use of any was made."

THE NEW JUDGE.

Reference to Mr. Justice Duff's First Appearance in the Supreme Court.

An Ottawa dispatch to the Toronto Globe referring to the opening of the Supreme court contains the following reference to Mr. Justice Duff: "Mr. Justice Duff arrived early this morning from British Columbia, a few hours later having taken his seat on the Supreme court bench. Physically he is rather overshadowed by the burly form of Mr. Justice Idington, who sits on his left, but his features impressed the onlookers very favorably. They suggest intellect, sensibility and good humor, and the keen eyes appear to take in everything. The new judge, with his ruddy hair and closely cropped beard of the same hue, looks quite youthful alongside some of his learned brethren. Chief Justice Pitpatrick, looking very dignified, despite the loose judicial robes, gown trimmed with white, which displayed his figure and those of the rest of the court, opened the fall term by reading in a sympathetic tone of voice a brief eulogy of the late Justice Sedgewick."

COAL MEASURES OF NORTH UNDER OPTION

Expert Is Coming West to Examine Them for Well-Known Colliery Owners.

Northern British Columbia is attracting the attention of the investing public not only in Canada and the United States, but also in the old land. As a proof of this the information has been received from the Times, special correspondent in Toronto that an expert is now on his way to the Cassiar country to report on the coal measures in the Bulkley valley. The expert who is coming represents H. Mayhew and W. B. Gladstone, the well-known colliery owners of Chesire, England, who have been interested in the great possibilities of the coal trade in northern British Columbia when the G. T. P. railway opens it up to trade and commerce. The colliery owners mentioned have secured an option on about fifty square miles of these coal lands through the agency of Walter Murray, of Toronto. The measures are known to contain practically inexhaustible quantities of the best quality of bituminous coal, and at least to that of the Crow's Nest Coal Company. They are situated on the Skeena river, and compose a small portion of the rich coal area existing there, being contiguous to the valuable coal lands acquired by the Bulkley and Telqua Coal Company two years ago, and which includes among its shareholders wealthy Montreal and Toronto investors.

MOORE ACQUIRING FURTHER ISLAND IRON PROPERTIES

Seattle Capitalist Looking for More Raw Material for Enlarged Smelter at Irondale.

It is expected that within six months the improvements contemplated at the Irondale smelter, recently acquired by J. A. Moore, will be completed. Superintending Price is now in Pittsburg and is placing orders for $100,000 worth of betterments. Though pig iron will be the chief product of the enlarged smelter when completed a large line of by-products will also be manufactured, including wood alcohol, charcoal, pyroligneous acid, creosote, turpentine and tar. The present operations for increasing the capacity of the smelter do not complete Mr. Moore's plans for its enlargement, he has further and more extensive improvements in process of incubation.

VANDERBILT CUP RACE.

Writer in London World Buries Into Poetry and Suggests New Name.

New York, Oct. 10.—A special cable to the Times says the London World today published the following: "Death in the cup; why call it after Vanderbilt, not after Juggernaut? Behold the scorcher at full tilt; why call it after Juggernaut?" When blood so sensuously is spilt, a new name should be sought. Why call it after Vanderbilt, not after Juggernaut?"

Will Not Be Adopted by Yale, According to President Madley.

New York, Oct. 10.—Says a New Haven dispatch to a morning paper: "Yale will not adopt simplified spelling according to a statement made by President Hadley yesterday afternoon. I do not intend to make use of the new system," he said, "and I was not an advocate of it. I see as yet no reason to adopt it."

HOW BRAVE SAILOR SAVED SHIPMATES

SWAM THROUGH SURF TO PEACE LINE ON SHORE

Had Desperate Struggle to Reach Land— Crew of Stranded Barge Rescued.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 10.—A Detroit News special from Houghton, Mich., says: "The 14 people comprising the crews of the barges Wayne and Noiter, which were reported missing in Monday night's storm, were found alive and safe yesterday, having survived the stranding of the two vessels on the shore off Macey Bay. Both vessels struck on a rock shore. "While the crew of the Wayne found it comparatively easy matter to reach dry land, the Noiter crew found themselves imprisoned on the stranded ship with a stretch of boiling surf intervening between them and the shore. "Ed. Jacobson, one of the Noiter's crew, took the free end of a line in his teeth, plunged into the surf, and after a terrific battle for life, made his way to the land, establishing communication with his shipmates by means of the line he had brought to shore. Jacobson then brought the six remaining members of the crew to land on a breeches buoy."

BASEBALL TRANSFER.

G. B. Dovey and Associates Will Con- trol Boston National League Club.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 10.—The Herald today says: "The first official information concerning the sale of the Boston National League club by President Soden and allied interests was made yesterday by Geo. B. Dovey, who will be the new president of the club. Mr. Dovey's statement makes it apparent that the recent reported sale of the club to Fred Tenny was only in a small measure correct. The sale of the club to the Doveys and their partners was consummated some weeks ago after Tenny had secured an option on it. George B. Dovey will be president and treasurer of the club, removing to Boston and assuming active charge on December 1st. John S. Dovey will be secretary and Tenny will be captain and manager of the team. The board of directors have not yet been named."

JOCKEY INJURED.

Steeplechaser Fell in First Jump and Rider Was Hurt.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 10.—George Gordon, of Philadelphia, riding the steeplechaser Armour, owned by H. Stuckhouse, also of Philadelphia, was seriously injured at the state fair races yesterday his mount falling at the first jump in the steeplechase. He is now in a hospital. It is feared that he received internal injuries.

New York, Oct. 9.—That Albert J. Adams, the so-called "Policy King," who was found dead in his room in the hotel at Ansonia, was murdered in the belief of Coroner Harburger as ex- pressed with the opinion of the highest into Adams' death today. The coron- er says also that he was convinced that his investigations also would re- veal evidence to show that the murder- er is a prominent witness in the case.

RAILWAY WRECK.

Number of Cars Thrown From the Track by a Broken Rail.

Wintham, Ont., Oct. 9.—James Jobb, a laborer, who has been a resident of this section for a number of years, was instantly killed by the C. P. R. express at the Main street crossing in this town. He had spent the day at the Wintham fair, and was driving home alone in a buggy when the accident occurred. The engineer saw the rig on the track and blew the whistle, but he could not stop the train in time to avoid the accident. An inquest was opened and adjourned until Wednesday.

ATTEMPT TO KILL WASHINGTON JUDGE

BEDROOM WRECKED BY EXPLOSION OF DYNAMITE

During Trial of Divorce Case Recently He Received Threatening Letters, But Ignored Them.

Chehalis, Wash., Oct. 10.—An attempt to assassinate Judge Yoder, a well-known attorney, by blowing his house up with dynamite was made last night.

The dynamite tore a hole about eight feet long and three feet wide in the floor alongside the bedstead where the judge and his wife were sleeping, and the couple were thrown to the floor by the shock. Although painfully bruised, neither received any serious injuries. The lawyer received several threatening letters during the trial of a divorce case, but paid no attention to them.

PROGRESS OF REVELSTOCK.

J. W. Henderson Reports Lumbering and Mining Going Ahead in North-East Kootenay

J. W. Henderson, of Revelstoke, arrived in Victoria last night after a vacation trip to the Sound cities. He reports everything rushing in the Kootenay city. Though mining is progressing favorably the great boom is found in lumbering. Only recently there were two important institutions changed hands. The Lamb-Watson company, a well-known eastern concern, acquired the whole property of the Arrowhead Lumber Company, with its extensive wharfage and track facilities at Arrowhead, and the latter company at once resumed operations by purchasing the holdings of the Payston Creek Company at a good figure.

MORE SEALERS HOME.

Two Arrived Last Evening With Fair Catches—Indian Schooners Yet to Return.

Two more of the sealers carrying white walrus returned last evening from the northern grounds, and they, like the vessels which arrived in advance, have brought home fairly good catches. The Charlotte G. Cox, Capt. Christian, has 700 seals for her work, and the Diana, Capt. Waldeen, 835 for a similar cruise. The report of these two vessels is like that of others that have arrived. Neither vessel ran into any storm of the Coast, and the log of the Charlotte G. Cox shows that the heavy weather of a week ago yesterday had been missed. The barometer on that day had fallen very low and a tremendous sea had been met, but no wind, indicating that the hurricane had passed in another direction.

SANITORIUM FUND.

List of Additional Local Contributors— To Commence Collections.

Further subscriptions to the Sanatorium building fund are as follows:

D. R. Key	100.00
Ernest D. Levanon	100.00
A. P. Laxton	50.00
Mrs. Hugh Allen	50.00
Victoria Grand Jury (Fall Assizes, per Mr. Griffith)	50.00

The committees connected with the several churches are requested to begin their collections for the sanatorium at once and turn in the money as collected to Mr. Gaffney at the Bank of Montreal. At the close of the month a general meeting of all the committees will be called by a notice in the press.

TOPEKA, KAN., Oct. 9.—Several persons were injured seriously, and many more slightly, in the wreck which occurred last night two miles east of Wallomona on the Union Pacific railway. Four cars on the Overland west-bound were thrown from the track by a broken rail, and the wreckage is strewn over a distance of a quarter of a mile. The train was late and was running at high speed. The engine, tender, baggage and mail cars, together with the smoker, did not leave the track.

THE YORK COUNTY LOAN AFFAIRS

ALL SHAREHOLDERS NOT YET REPORTED

Increase in Montreal Real Estate Values—Alleged Embezzler Arrested at Halifax.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—It is announced by the National Trust Company that the complete list of shareholders of the York County Loan & Savings Company today comprises 110,000 individuals or claims, and that there are several thousand shareholders not yet reported. Roughly speaking, about $200,000 has already been realized on assets. The National Trust Company desires it to be known that it does not yet know when a dividend will be declared in connection with the affairs of the York County, nor can the time even be forecasted.

Insurance Commission.
Toronto, Oct. 9.—No response was made when the name of George Fowler was called at the insurance commission this morning. Much time was spent in supplying missing links in the chain of testimony. Hon. G. W. Ross, who was a witness, had no recollection of any discussion by the board of union trust of the proposition to surrender bogus stock in the Great West Land Company. The remainder of the morning was occupied by a further examination of Hon. G. E. Foster, who said that notwithstanding the testimony of Lt. Col. Davidson and G. W. Ross, he still held that the minutes were correct.

Montreal Real Estate.
Montreal, Oct. 9.—An astonishing report has been completed at the city hall and handed to the city treasurer, showing an enormous increase in real estate values for the current year. The figures in the report are made from the work of the city assessor. For the current year, property valuations in the city have increased by over twenty million dollars. So surprising are the figures that City Treasurer Robb has given instructions to the clerks at the city hall to carefully go over them again in order to see that no error has been made in additions, etc. The total valuation is $200,000,000, in addition to which there is about fifty millions of property exempt from taxation.

Part of Town Destroyed.
St. Charles, Que., Oct. 9.—Half of the residential portion of the historic town of St. Charles, on Richelieu river, which figured much in Canada's revolutionary wars, was wiped out by fire this morning. A high wind prevailed at the time, causing the flames to spread rapidly. There is very little insurance.

Premier Objects.
Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 9.—The transformation of 1,700,000 acres of land owned by the New Brunswick Railway Company into a game preserve will not be done with the consent of Premier Tweedie. The executive announcement that it was the view of the government that the wild lands of the province, whether owned by private individuals or by the crown, should be all in the same position in regard to hunting and the taking of game. While it is true that the vast area which was unfortunately granted to the New Brunswick Railway Company forty-five years ago, has always been treated as wild lands and not subject to taxation, it is open to the government to effect it to be made to use the property in a manner detrimental to the public interest, to impose a tax in proportion to the value. The premier has written the company expressing the government's disapproval of the proposal.

FIGHT OVER MANIFESTO.
Trouble Between Conservative and Radical Factions of Russian Constitutional Democrats.

Helsingfors, Oct. 8.—The expected trouble between the Conservative and Radical factions of the Constitutional Democrats, in session here, has now begun over the committee's compromise report on the Viborg manifesto. The opponents of the report declare that any side-tracking of the manifesto would stultify the party in the eyes of the voters.

These opponents, however, consider the report will propose, as a means of avoiding a rupture within the party, an amendment to the draft, striking out the paragraph of the Viborg manifesto which advocated the application of the principle of passive resistance, particularly in regard to urging recruits not to join the colors and proposing the non-payment of taxes which suggestions are considered to be impracticable, while retaining the paragraphs endorsing the action of the members of the outlawed parliament who signed the Viborg manifesto.

The Conservatives, headed by Peter Struve, Leo V. Petraschik, Constitutional Democrat leader in the late parliament, and M. Dugue, have abandoned their fight for a complete dismissal of the manifesto and have joined in the defence of the committee's report, which, it is expected, will be accepted. Professor Paul Miliukoff's proposition that parliament still not recognize any future laws enacted without its sanction, will also probably be carried. The present congress is the smallest of the four held by the Constitutional Democrats since the fall of the tsar, and the delegates that the government would not permit the meeting.

NARROW ESCAPE.
Desperado Shot at New Westminster Police Station, Bullet Going Through His Helmet.

New Westminster, Oct. 9.—Police Officer Maxwell narrowly escaped sudden death at the hands of a desperado early this morning. The officer was on night duty and was trying the back doors of the building in the house adjoining the law behind Columbia street, to see that all were secure. Shortly after 2 a. m., when he was about to try the door of George Adams' grocery store, a man suddenly stepped from the shadow of the building and fired a shot at the officer's head at about three paces distance. The bullet entered the policeman's helmet just above the hair and passed out almost as low on the other side. The shot was fired at such close range that the helmet was burned and splashed with powder all around the bullet hole. After firing, the man ran, followed by two shots from the officer's revolver, but the latter was too dazed and surprised to be able to take careful aim, and the man escaped. Whether the desperado was a would-be burglar or not, Officer Maxwell could not tell as he had not even caught sight of the man prior to the shooting.

'FRISCO HOLD-UP.
San Francisco, Oct. 9.—A highway robbery of unusual boldness occurred just before noon today near the corner of Thirteenth avenue and California street. Three men, armed with revolvers, approached John Lally, who was walking on the street in full view of fifty people, and robbed Lally of a gold watch and several dollars. Lally, who counted on interruption from many witnesses, gave up his property without any show of resistance.

ARCHBISHOP BOND HAS PASSED AWAY

ATTENDED TO DUTIES UP TO TIME OF DEATH

Completed His Ninety-First Year Last Month—Sketch of His Career.

Montreal, Oct. 9.—Archbishop Bond, primate of all Canada of the Anglo-Canadian church, died this morning. He had not been in the best of health for some time, but had been able to attend to his duties up to the time of his death. He completed the 91st year of his age on the 10th of September.

The Most Rev. William Bennett Bond was born in Truro the year that Waterloo was fought and educated in London for commercial and industrial pursuits. He was admitted into Holy Orders in Canada and passed through all the grades of priest, archdeacon, dean, bishop and archbishop, while connected with the diocese of Montreal. He left England when still a youth, landing in Newfoundland, where, while engaged in secular pursuits, he associated himself with mission work and came under the notice of the late Archbishop Bridge, by whom he was educated for church work and advised to proceed to the Canadian mainland.

It was in 1840 that he was admitted a deacon and the following year ordained a priest at the hands of the late Bishop Mountain. After his ordination the young cleric—then twenty-six—was employed as a travelling missionary with headquarters at Russellville, Fla. and afterwards at Naperville, Ill. He evinced considerable ability as an organizer, establishing several missions and schools in the eastern townships, no less than seven being in the township of Hemmingford. His first regular incumbency was at Lachine, where he remained six years, going from thence to St. George's church, Montreal, in which he was for nearly sixty years a prominent figure outside as well as inside the communion of his own church. His direct connection with St. George's continued for thirty years, until 1878, during which time he passed from assistant minister to rector and became a Canon of the diocese, rural dean, archdeacon of Hochelaga, and in 1873, dean of Montreal. During his long ministry at St. George's, his parishioners were numerous and his influence was of a high order. His career as a high dignitary of the church dated from the resignation of the celebrated Dr. Oxenden, as Bishop of Montreal in 1878, the Synod selecting Dean Bond as his successor and the consecration ceremony was performed by Bishop Medley, of Fredericton, on January 23, 1879. Up to this time the Primacy of Canada had been associated with the Bishopric of Montreal; the new bishop waived his claim to that distinction and the late Dr. Medley, as the earliest occupant of the Episcopal bench, became the Metropolitan. It was in 1900 that the distinguished prelate became Archbishop of Montreal, and upon the death of Archbishop Medley, he succeeded to the office of Primate of All Canada. Very Rev. Dean Carmichael being elected co-adjutor bishop of Montreal, so that he might be relieved of some of the many arduous duties attached to his high position.

While at St. George's Rev. Dr. Bond associated himself with the work of many of the societies and institutions of Montreal, which aimed at promoting the moral, physical and spiritual welfare of the citizens. He was for some years chaplain of the Prince of Wales Regiment and during the Fenian Raids of 1866 and 1870, served with his corps on the frontier. In the Citizens' League, formed in 1869, he was an active figure and a remarkable evidence of his breadth of view was afforded by the sympathy extended to the Fenian prisoners, who were then, in 1870, his life was despaired of, and prayer for his recovery and spiritual and temporal welfare was offered up in many of the Roman Catholic churches of Montreal.

The Primate had been a widower for many years; when in his 26th year he had married Miss Eliza Longley, of St. John's, Nfld., who was his companion during all the strenuous years of his ministry; but died in 1879, within six months of his appointment to the Bishopric of Montreal. The church during his episcopate made wonderful strides, and under his fostering care, coupled with the generosity of the late A. F. Gault, the present Theological College was built. The vitality of the archbishop was something of a marvel. At four-score years and ten he undertook duties which many a man forty years his junior would relegate to a deputy. During the visit of the Archbishop of Canterbury in 1903 not a function did the venerable prelate miss, for in addition to entertaining the Archbishop at Bishopscourt he was present at every reception given in Dr. Davidson's honor.

It was under Dr. Bond's supervision, when rector of St. George's, that the Normal school for the training of teachers was founded, and was, for a time, distinctly a church institution. It is not so many years ago, and during Dr. Bond's bishopric, that it was drawn into the public school system of the province of Quebec. Dr. Bond received the honorary degree of M. A. from Bishop's College, Lennoxville, N. B., in 1884, and that of LL.D. from McGill University in 1879. He was associated with many philanthropic movements.

TERRORISTS EXECUTED.
Warsaw, Oct. 8.—Three terrorists were hanged here today after having been sentenced to death by a drum-head court-martial.

The French railway companies have placed at Cardiff contracts for more than half a million tons of small coal and 100,000 tons of large coal, to be delivered in 1907.

KIDNEY TROUBLES

Increasing Among Women, But Sufferers Need Not Despair

THE BEST ADVICE IS FREE

Of all the diseases known, with which the female organism is afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal, and statistics show that this disease is on the increase among women.

Mrs. Emma Sawyer

Unless early and correct treatment is applied the patient seldom survives when once the disease is fastened upon her. We believe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most efficient treatment for chronic kidney troubles of women, and is the only medicine especially prepared for this purpose.

When a woman is troubled with pain or weight in loins, backache, frequent, painful or scalding urination, swelling of limbs or feet, swelling under the eyes, an uneasy, tired feeling in the region of the kidneys or noticing a sediment in the urine, she should lose no time in commencing treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it may be the means of saving her life.

For proof, read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Sawyer. "I cannot express the terrible suffering I had to endure. A derangement of the female organs developed nervous prostration and a serious kidney trouble. The doctor attended me for a year, but I kept getting worse, until I was unable to do anything, and I made up my mind I could not live. I finally decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a last resort, and I am to-day a well woman. I cannot praise it too highly, and I will ever suffering woman about my case." Mrs. Emma Sawyer, Conway, Me.

THE CHEHALIS DISASTER

Civil Action to Be Taken Immediately Against the C. P. R.

"A meeting of parties interested in the Chehalis disaster of July 21st last, together with their legal representatives, was held yesterday afternoon, and it was unanimously decided to take immediate action against the C. P. R. for damages in connection with the loss of the vessel." Tuesday's Vancouver News-Advertiser. "The Union Steamship Company will seek compensation for the loss of the vessel, and will be represented by Joseph Martin, K. C. The British Columbia Native Oyster Company will also sue for the loss of instruments which sank with the Chehalis. "Those who lost relatives in the disaster will bring individual suit against the railway company. W. J. Bowser, K. C., will appear for Robert Bryce, who lost his wife in the wreck, and for the estate of Mrs. Bryce. Mr. Bowser will also represent J. O. Benwell, whose little boy was lost, and the estate of the late P. J. Chalk. Besides this suit will be brought by Mrs. Bryce, of the Chehalis, for the death of her father, Dr. Hutton, and by Mr. Crawford for the loss of his young son who went out as deck-hand. The relatives of the Japanese firemen and the Chinese cook will also bring action to recover damages on their account. "It has not yet been decided what the amount of damages to be sued for will be. At yesterday's meeting it was simply resolved that suit for damages would be taken, and some of the writs at least will be got out to-day. "The suit of the Union Steamship Company against the C. P. R., since it concerns the loss of the vessel, will have to be tried in the Admiralty court, but the individual suits for damages will be tried in the Supreme court. Mr. Justice Martin as judge in Admiralty will try the first-named case. "In the meantime the C. P. R. has appealed to Ottawa for a re-hearing of the estate of Mrs. Bryce, with the hope, doubtless, of being able to reverse the judgment of the commission composed of Mr. Justice Morrison, Captain Hunt, E. N., and Captain Cox. The application for re-hearing will, it is understood, be opposed."

HORSLAND FOUND GUILTY BY JURY

SENTENCED TO FIVE YEARS WITH LABOR

Grand Jury Threw Out the Bill in Rex vs. Battle—Assizes Have Closed.

The sitting of the Assize court proved a short one, all the cases being disposed of yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon the grand jury brought in a true bill in the case of Rex vs. Horsland, but failed to find that Rex vs. Battle, in which the accused was charged with unlawful wounding, should go before a petit jury. The case was, therefore, dismissed.

The grand jury at this sitting decided not to make a presentation to the court. The members of the grand jury also turned over their fees to the Anti-Tuberculosis Society to be added to the fund for the establishment of a tuberculosis sanatorium.

The trial of James Horsland was proceeded with yesterday afternoon. A little delay resulted in consequence of the fact that the prisoner came unrepresented by counsel. His Lordship Mr. Justice Morrison requested Fred. Peters, K. C., to look after the interests of the accused. An adjournment of half an hour was granted in order to allow Mr. Peters to acquaint himself with the case.

On resuming the hearing Dr. Fraser was called as a witness. He described the wound inflicted upon Mrs. Horsland by the accused. It was about a quarter of an inch in length slightly below and behind the right ear.

Mrs. Horsland, the principal witness, testified to the fact that the accused was addicted to drink. She had not been living with him before the stabbing for about a year. He had threatened to "do" for her and on the day of the assault he had called on her at Mrs. Plim's. Witness had wanted him to reform and she would go to live with him. He had then threatened to "do" for her and the children even if he was hanged for it. She had at his request asked a distance with him. She refused to go farther, and the accused then prevented her going back. Mr. Cave and Mr. McCulloch arrived, and when accused attempted to strike her, Mr. McCulloch interfered and threw accused down. Witness started for home, and accused had pursued her and asked her. In the scuffle they fell over an embankment, and accused struck the knife into her neck. She drew the knife out.

In cross-examination, witness said that there was some trouble between accused and her father.

In reply to His Lordship witness said the ill-temper manifested by the prisoner was while he was drinking.

H. Cave and S. McCulloch gave evidence as to the arrest of the accused to strike his wife and afterwards of the stabbing. They both were a short distance away when he struck the knife into Mrs. Horsland's neck. When they seized accused he had said he intended to stab her when he went for the walk. Mrs. Perkins, another eye-witness, and Mrs. Plim, gave evidence corroborative of that of the other witnesses.

The prisoner then went into the box and gave evidence on his own behalf. He testified that he had been married seven years ago, and came to British Columbia in May, 1905. He had never had any trouble with his wife before they came to British Columbia. The first difference occurred with his father-in-law over the refusal of witness to help a neighbor in haying. His father-in-law was obnoxious, and he had told his wife that if she did not give him more of her company he would quit her. Witness had gone to England. On the first night after he arrived from England he had tried to see his children, and his father-in-law had refused him.

After being charged by His Lordship the jury retired and after consultation brought in a verdict of guilty with a recommendation to mercy.

His Lordship passed sentence on the prisoner for five years imprisonment with hard labor.

The court then rose.

DEATH FROM HEART DISEASE

A CASE OF NEGLECTING A WEAK HEART AND TIRED NERVES.

If your heart flutters, be careful. An attack is liable to come on at any time. Excitement, over exertion or emotion may cause it.

If blood rushes to the head, if palpitation and short breath are noticeable, there's cause for alarm.

If you want a good honest remedy try Ferrerozone. We recommend Ferrerozone because we know its just right for heart trouble. It cured A. F. Beattie, who lives at Allen Hotel, Bay City, Mich. See if your symptoms resemble these:

Symptoms of Weak Heart.

Nervousness, Palpitation, Trembling, Dizziness, Sinking Feeling, Heart Pains, Short Breath, Weakness.

Mr. Beattie says: "I was weak and miserable. I was subject to heart palpitation and dizziness."

"As I grew worse I began to have trembling and sinking sensations."

"Ferrerozone strengthened my heart, gave vigor to my nerves, soon made me well, it's a great restorer."

By strengthening the muscles of the heart, giving proper circulation and causing a general rebuilding of the whole system, Ferrerozone is bound to do grand work in heart trouble; try it, 50c. per box, or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

James Pollie, who was injured at the New Westminster exhibition grounds on Friday, is dead from the effects of his injuries. Pollie fell off a wagon, alighting on his head and sustaining a severe dislocation of the spinal cord. He leaves a widow and several children.

Especially For Women

FRUIT-A-TIVES are the finest medicine in the world for women.

As a mild and gentle laxative—as a positive and speedy cure for Constipation and Biliousness—as the only cure for weak and irritated kidneys and especially for "that pain in the back"—as a positive cure for headaches—and as a general tonic to build up and invigorate the whole system—FRUIT-A-TIVES stand supreme.

In cases of irritated Ovaries, Ovarian Pains, Vaginal Catarrh, Excessive and Scanty Menstruation, Ulcerations, Bearing Down Pains—and all those troubles peculiar to women—

Fruit-a-tives

ON "FRUIT LIVER TABLETS"

have the most remarkable effect. Ninety-nine cases out of a hundred of Female Troubles are due to neglected bowels become constipated—kidneys irregular—skin neglected—and the system of the body, which should be carried up by these important organs, are taken up by the blood carried to the female organs and poison them, thus starting up a train of female troubles.

FRUIT-A-TIVES are made from fruits and by their remarkable action on bowels, kidneys and skin, rid the system of poison, purify the blood, and restore the delicate organs of generation to new vigor and health.

No woman, who suffers, should ever be without them. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50, at your druggist's or sent postpaid by FRUIT-A-TIVES LIMITED—OTTAWA.

"EDUCATION OF MR. PIPP"

Laughable Thomas Comedy at Victoria Theatre This Evening—"Parsifal" and Gogorza.

Digby Bell, who appears at the Victoria theatre to-night in "The Education of Mr. Pipp," is winning golden opinions everywhere for his interpretation of the title role. This week he was in Seattle and the Times of that city has the following to say of his performance:

"Digby Bell in 'The Education of Mr. Pipp' now running at the Grand, is an entertainer of the highest order, who are looking for the very best. In this newest Augustus Thomas comedy to be seen in Seattle there is the same admirable construction, witty dialogue and deftness of situation shown in 'Alabama' and 'The Earl of Pawlucetti'."

A company that is excellent throughout interprets the comedy and a packed house last night—and a Sunday night house by the way is not supposed to be the most thoroughly appreciative of a play of such high grade—witnessed the performance and applauded Mr. Bell and his supporters until the star had to come before the curtain in a little speech.

"Mr. Bell's first starring tour to Seattle was made in the fall of 1904, but in the fall of '05 'The Education of Mr. Pipp' made a thorough impression on local audiences. Three years ago he heightened this good opinion by his clearest characterization in 'Mr. Pickwick' and now Mr. Thomas has thoroughly fitted his abundant talents with a glove-fitting role that does not display him to the exclusion of the rest of the company, but that features all of his ability."

"Up the role of Mr. Pipp Mr. Bell comes as near to being lovable as it is given to any masculine player to be. All of his methods are as distinctive and original as are the rasping voice of Willie Collier, the facial immobility of William Gillette or the stride of the late Irving. He faces his semi-hated spouse in a way that is humiliating, and he takes refuge from her scorn in the protective arms of his friends to the accompaniment of a jangle of all the heart-strings in the audience. Mr. Bell will, deserve the adjective 'great' if he isn't careful."

"There is nothing but ability all down the line of his support. Belle Gaffney is entitled to thanks for not overdoing or underdoing as trying a role as an author ever wrote. Mrs. Pipp, the performance of a clever enough to draw packed houses for the two remaining nights of its Seattle stay."

"Parsifal."

It is best for those intending to witness "Parsifal" at the Victoria theatre on Friday, October 12th, that they should bear in mind the fact that the performance commences at 7.45 sharp. Commencement of the play at that hour is necessary on account of its length, and the desire on the part of the management to avoid a late start for the final curtain. The warning trumpets, sounded by uniformed trumpeters, at the entrance of the lobby of the theatre, will be given ten minutes before the spectacle begins. After that time elapses, late comers will not be shown to their seats till the expiration of the first part of the play.

Gogorza.

Another viewpoint of the world of achievement is commanded by the young and gifted baritone, Emilio de Gogorza, whose brilliant and dramatic high baritone has all the refinement of tone and expression that belong to the tenor. It is a voice as flexible as Scotti's, and M. Gogorza is a fine and subtle in all matters of phrasing, enunciation, vocal nuance and brilliant effects.

The recital to be given here on October 16th at the Victoria theatre, under the auspices of the Victoria Musical Society is the first big event of the season. It would attract the same widespread interest were it the tag end of a long season, for Gogorza's Spanish temperament and his magnificent voice make a combination quite irresistible.

In Alsace and the German part of Lorraine many families send their children over the French frontier to buy meats. They can get it for 3 or 4 cents a pound less than they are charged in Germany, and there is no duty on small quantities.

Cloth is now being successfully made from wood. Strips of the grained wood are boiled and crushed between rollers, and the elements are spun into threads, from which cloth can be woven in the usual way.

CLEANSING PUBLIC LIFE.

There would be no good purpose served by denying the fact that the public life of Canada needs to be purged of some of the unwholesome elements that have lately made themselves so manifest. If we are to believe the evidence of witnesses who have so far testified in the London election case, there are a considerable number of persons in that constituency so lost to all sense of duty to their country, not to speak of moral responsibility to their better selves, that they have no hesitation in selling their votes for a dollar or two. But these obnoxious persons play a very minor part in the conduct of public affairs. They are merely insensate instruments in the hands of other persons presumably higher up in the scale. And it is well to remember in considering this particular case of London that the proceedings were taken on the initiative of a man who admits that he is a "disappointed office seeker" who was turned ignominiously out of the presence of prominent men in London upon whom he attempted what was practically blackmail. And then again individuals who will sell their votes and take false oaths in a polling booth are not to be trusted to tell the truth with fidelity when placed on the witness stand. It is to be hoped, whatever the moral status of the London operators may be, that the truth in respect to their allegations may be brought out and that all who can be proved to have been guilty of wrongdoing may be dealt with in accordance with the weight of their transgressions.

As we have said, let the purging process proceed and let the cleansing agent be applied without discrimination. Only a few months ago a few rampant purists made themselves very conspicuous on the floor of the House of Commons at Ottawa. There was one called Bennett who was especially suspicious of every transaction in which members on the opposite side of the House were concerned and whose denunciations were emphatic and indiscriminate. Mr. Bennett had evidently lost all faith in the honesty of intent and purpose of his kind. Mr. Foster was next in order in the role of critic. Caustic and severe, nothing that had been done by the government was done with the single purpose of serving the country and promoting its welfare. Every movement had concealed some where in its neighborhood a sinister motive. Add to this militant company of politicians the names of Lefurgey and Fowler, M.P.s, and Rufus Pope, ex-M.P., and we have a complete company of irreproachable. Mr. Pope was out West not long ago, and it will be remembered that he too essayed to enlighten all the communities he visited upon his favorite topic of the moral shortcomings of the Grits and to demonstrate that all the virtues, political and private, were to be found on the opposition side.

Have our readers been following the proceedings of the Insurance Commission now sitting in Toronto? Have they seen in eastern newspapers accounts of the peculiar manner in which the funds belonging to the fraternal society of the Foresters—funds belonging not to the officers and members of the society, but to the wives and children of the members, trust funds—were manipulated for the private benefit of certain members and ex-members of parliament? Have they noted that fifty thousand dollars properly belonging to the beneficiaries of members of the order of Foresters were improperly diverted into the pockets of a certain number of Conservative members of parliament? The facts have all been brought out. They have been admitted by some of the persons whose names and reputations are involved in the unsavory transaction. Of course the men meant no wrong. They were hard pressed and they needed the money, politics being such an expensive and unremunerative business. The tale of that fraud is not yet complete. One of the persons principally concerned, a member of parliament, has not yet come forward to explain his part. The commissioner who is hearing the evidence will not make his report for some time, probably not till long after parliament assembly. When the House meets, however, the seats of four of the most prominent members on the opposition side ought to be vacant. Their presence ought not to be tolerated in an honorable assembly. Let the purging process be commenced at the point where it will be most conspicuous and will therefore have the most marked effect. If our public men cannot set an example in integrity of purpose and purity of motive to those whom they represent, their moral lapses ought not to be condoned by permitting continuance in public life.

AN EXTRAORDINARY DECISION.

The Colonist says it "is resolved not to permit its columns to be used for the advocacy of a reduced headtax on the Chinese." Just imagine the effect of such an announcement upon the minds of a goodly company of "old subscribers!" This matter is none of our business, of course, but really the change is so sudden, the feat in acrobatics is so startling, that we cannot refrain from wondering what can be the cause of it all nor from suspecting that some one has blundered. It is only a few weeks since the following appeared in the columns of our contemporary:

"We observe on the part of several political newspapers in the province either a desire to evade the subject in a direct and definite way altogether or to oppose the suggestion of introducing Chinese, under a special arrangement for a limited period. This attitude is obviously in fear of the labor vote, or an attempt to curry favor. The exigencies of the situation, however, are too important to be played with. The labor question, as it immediately affects us, should be dealt with in view of the requirements—as a business matter—without reference to politics or the effect it is going to have on the next general election. In fact, if the professional politicians will keep their hands off altogether, the matter will find a satisfactory solution in a short time."

It is true several political newspapers, more discreet than the Colonist, and all of them supportive of the McBride government, did "evade the subject in a direct or definite way," while others of another political denomination openly opposed the suggestion of "introducing Chinese, under a special arrangement for a limited period." It is also true that the "professional politicians" did not seem disposed to keep their hands off, and that the matter has not "found a satisfactory solution," according to the views the Colonist lately expressed. But the fact that obstacles have arisen in the path of a very desirable movement should not constitute a reason for our contemporary turning its back so hastily. Having put its hand to the plough, it should go right ahead until it has reached the end of the furrow. These violent changes of attitude have an unsettling effect upon the minds of readers of newspapers. They cause people to go hunting for motives and breed a lack of confidence. If the people who honestly believe that British Columbia has suffered because of the imposition of the five hundred dollar headtax on Chinese will but have patience for a few days, or a few weeks, or a few months at the most, they may find our contemporary's columns again open to their contributions. Why their letters should be refused publication we do not profess to understand. But we presume that if our neighbor's character were above suspicion it might admit anything fit to print without risk of losing prestige. When one is "out on probation" he must walk warily.

AN INTREPID CHAMPION.

Premier McBride has gained a famous victory at Ottawa. Alone and unaided he stood forth against and overcame all the other provincial premiers, including two such Tory stalwarts as Hon. J. P. Whitney of Ontario and Hon. R. Roblin of Manitoba. If there had been but one vulnerable point in the defenses of this modern political Achilles, if he had been exposed to attack even on the heel or the great toe, it would of course have gone hard with the case of British Columbia in this important matter of better terms. But the Hon. the Premier was absolutely perfect in his harness, and the attacking forces were obliged to capitulate. Consequently a notable victory has been won for this lucky province. What advantage has the Premier gained? There is the voice of the sceptic again. All the other provincial representatives wanted to make the case for the provinces general, common of harmonious, because in such procedure they believed there was greater probability of their demands being favorably considered. That is to say, such is the version of the proceedings that has been sent West bearing the imprimatur of Premier McBride himself. There are other sides to the tale, one of them bearing the construction that the Tories and the Grits at the conference,

GOOD TEMPLARS.

Grand Lodge Meeting for Province in Nanaimo—Address by Dr. Lewis Hall.

The grand lodge, I. O. G. T., is at present sitting in Nanaimo, presided over by Dr. Lewis Hall, of this city, the Grand Chief Templar for British Columbia, Victoria West, No. 23, is represented by Mrs. Lewis and F. Knack, Perseverance lodge, No. 1, Victoria, by W. Wilkes, Mrs. Hall and G. Mason, and Esquimalt by Rev. J. W. Hick.

Yesterday the Grand Chief Templar delivered his address at the 21st annual session of the grand lodge. He said: "I would like to have reported greater success, still progress has been made, but owing to the inability of the international supreme lodge to assist us in lecturing work, and the condition of our funds, it was impossible for us to place a competent lecturer in the field."

"Our province is in great need of a lecturer, and I hope and trust we may be able to do something this coming year."

"I am pleased to report the organization of three new lodges, two at Vancouver organized by Bro. J. Mathew, the other at Port Simpson amongst the Indians, organized by Bro. A. E. Green, also the Vernon lodge organized through the efforts of Sister Mrs. L. J. Prior. One juvenile temple has been added by Bro. Tate, and therein lies the success of our order, viz. in training the children, and I would recommend that greater efforts be put forward in that direction."

"I am sorry to have to report that after all liabilities have been met, our grand lodge will be some $10,000 behind that of last year. I trust some plan will be formulated that will result in the augmentation of our funds. If such cannot be done, I believe that the per capita should be raised to what it was three years ago, or sufficient to increase our present income."

"During the last session of the legislative assembly made by the temperance organizations to secure legislation providing for local option. Although not successful an act was passed limiting the number of licenses according to the population, which to a certain extent will assist the temperance movement for the reason that in many cities and localities the maximum is more than reached. Therefore it will be impossible for new licenses to be granted in such places for some time to come at least."

The report of the grand secretary, Geo. R. McBain, of Vancouver, contained the following interesting statistics in reference to the work of the order: Total number of members last report, 326; initiated during the year, 46; received by card, 6; reinstated, 6; number of members suspended, 21; withdrawn by card, 6; withdrawn from order, 17; deaths, 2; expelled, 6; lost through defunct lodges, 23; present membership, 735; number of sisters, 262; number of brothers, 442.

The financial statement was as follows: Balance on hand, 1905, $259.19. Receipts for year, 380.25. Total, 639.44. Expenditure for year, 526.42. Balance on hand, 1906, 113.02. Total assets, 631.62. Total liabilities, 518.60. Assets over liabilities, 113.02.

KAISER'S TASTE IN SONG.

Very few details of the Kaiser's three days' visit to Frau Krupp at Essen have been published. The Kaiser's visit to Essen was a triumphal procession. He was met by a large number of officials and a magnificent display of fireworks. On arrival at the Villa Hügel His Majesty spoke a few words to Frau Krupp, who was introduced to the Kaiser. He then proceeded to the Krupp works, and particularly of the new cannons.

Thrilling. Experience on Surf-Ridden Coast—Dug Grave With Hands.

Members of the crew of the British steamer Troutpool, which has returned to Cardiff, relate a thrilling story of their dangerous adventures during the stranding of the vessel at Point de Palma, South America.

Two days after her stranding Captain Laurie dispatched two of the crew in one of the vessel's lifeboats in search of a lighthouse in order to communicate his situation to Monte Video, and on the following day five others of the crew left the vessel in a dinghy for the shore.

The locality is one of the worst surf-ridden spots in South America, and the little craft had not proceeded far before she was struck and the five occupants thrown into the sea. Three clung to the upturned boat for some time, and were subsequently drowned; but the other two, the chief engineer and Frank Olney, boatwain, succeeded after great difficulty in reaching the beach in an exhausted condition.

Describing his experiences in getting to the shore, Olney said: "What ground I gained seemed to be lost as the surf ebbed, and I was three times drawn back. Just at this time I saw the chief engineer about twenty yards away, also struggling for the shore. The next time I was washed ashore, and anchored myself by digging my fingers and feet in the sand. By this means I was able to resist the ebbing strength of the surf, and was eventually dragged ashore by the chief engineer, who had just landed. It had been a terrible fight. Long gullies had been driven through the surf bottom, in some cases about 15 feet deep, giving it the character of a switchback, so that at one moment we were on the crest of the surf, and at the next being drawn as into a vortex."

"Where we landed was as dreary a place as could be imagined. Our first business was to ascertain the fate of the other sailors. We discovered the chief officer in a crouching position, but dead. We removed the body some distance up the beach, dug a grave with our hands about two feet deep near an old wooden wreck, and buried him. The captain was continually signalling to us and shouting through his megaphone, but we could hear nothing."

"We followed their signals, however, and picked up a bottle, which I broke, and found to contain a message from the mate informing us that he was sending some things ashore. A box was thrown overboard, and when some time later it was washed ashore, we found it to contain several bottles of water, two bottles of wine, some matches, biscuits, tobacco and cigarettes."

"On the following morning we found that the poor chief officer's face and body had been partly eaten away by wild animals, so we re-buried the body in the sand, and fixed over it a piece of timber from the wreck."

On the following day one of the crew of the steamer attempted to reach the shore with a life-line, and was picked up in an exhausted condition by the chief engineer. The three remained on the beach for three days and nights, and were eventually rescued without further mishap. In the meantime tugs had arrived with 300 laborers, and after the whole cargo of over 4,000 tons had been thrown into the sea the vessel floated and was towed safely to Rosario.

THE SULTAN'S SPIES.

Many of the officers of the army, says a writer in the Sunday at Home, realize the uttermost of the rule of Abdul Hamid and would take part in a coup d'état to dethrone him. "I have had confidential talks with many of them. But the Sultan's precautions for the protection of his own person and his system of spies are too thorough for anything of this kind to succeed."

"I have been told by an ex-secretary of the Sultan, that Abdul Hamid never eats from a dish that he has not tried personally on some servant, and he sleeps in secret subterranean cellars. His spies and the results of their work are to be seen on all sides. The system extends to even spies upon spies. A Turkish general sits in the office of Hilma Pasha, the inspector-general for the Austro-Russian reform, watching even the trusted Mohammedan the Sultan has seen fit to select for this high position. It is a common occurrence to see officers shipped into exile; but still more common every Thursday when I was in Salonica—suspected persons, untried, simply accused, sail away in scores to unknown lands in Asia."

"The Turk suffers as much as the Christian from the atrocious rule of Abdul Hamid, but he suffers in silence, for he believes that it is Allah's will, and Abdul is his prophet."

Dr. Fagan, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, left last night for the mainland. He will attend a meeting of the Anti-Tuberculosis Association in Vancouver this evening and afterwards take a short trip in the interior. Among other places he will visit is Savona. While away he will devote much attention towards securing additional subscriptions to the association mentioned.

Not the least enjoyable of the features of the programme at the New Grand this week is the overture "For All Eternity" rendered by the orchestra. The show this week is quite in keeping with the standard of entertainment provided by the house for many weeks. The exciting spectacular turn is that given by Miss Lillian Chick in a bicycle exhibition and in looping the loop.

A remarkable shooting accident occurred in the northern suburbs of the city on Saturday. A rifle in the hands of a young man living in that neighborhood was accidentally discharged and the ball penetrated two houses and passed within a foot of striking an infant at the time being bathed. The ball passed through the windows in this house and scattered the glass over the dining room table. Fortunately this was the only damage done.

Bishop Perrin last evening received the following telegram from Bishop Carmichael, coadjutor bishop of Montreal, with reference to the death of Archbishop Bond, who, as announced in these dispatches passed away yesterday: "The Primate passed away unexpectedly and quietly this morning at 6 o'clock. The funeral takes place at Christ Church cathedral on Friday afternoon." Bishop Carmichael will succeed the late Archbishop Bond.

LAND OF THE PHARAOHS.

Interesting Lecture Last Night Under Auspices of the Alexandra Literary Society.

A very large audience assembled to greet J. W. Laing, M.A., who had kindly consented to give the initial lecture of the winter's session, before the Alexandra Literary Society last evening, having as his subject "Egypt, the Land of the Pharaohs." This society, formerly known as "The Tuesday Club," was re-formed this year as a branch of the Alexandra Club, and has already a numerous membership, and the appreciation shown last evening together with the presence of a number of non-members, augurs well for the popularity and success of the excellent programme of work now presented to the public.

The Bishop of Columbia introduced the lecturer with a few well chosen words of encouragement to the club in its effort to keep up the standard, and his desire for literary work and mental improvement. After this, a couple of hours were quickly passed in listening to the lecturer, whose clear enunciation and cultivated method charmed his hearers.

Giving a synopsis of ancient Egyptian history, Mr. Laing told of the early religion and government of Egypt, of the principal deities, who were about eight in number, and were worshipped in the great cities after called after them, among them being Amen, the concealed god, the sovereign over all those sacred cities was Thebes. This deity was identified later with Amen-Ra, the physical sun, worshipped at Heliopolis, the symbol of light and heat. Others were Kneph, "the spirit of God"; Ptah, "the father of beginnings," patron of the city of Memphis; and Khefn, "the lord of the west." These deities are supposed to have represented spirit passing into matter and form, a process of divine incarnation. The most popular of all these deities, however, was Osiris. His image is found standing on the oldest monuments, a form of "Ra," the light of the lower world, and king, and judge of Hades. His chief temples were at Abydos and Philae.

The occupation of the people was agriculture and the useful arts, which last they carried to considerable perfection, especially in the working of metals, textile fabrics and jewelry. Their grand monuments were not triumphal arches, but temples and mausoleums. Even the pyramids, built to preserve the bodies of kings until the soul should be acquitted or condemned, were religious in their uses. They were more than mere emblems of pride or power. Moreover, when monuments were erected to perpetuate the fame of princes, their supreme design was to receive the engraved memorials of their virtuous deeds as "fathers of their people."

Egypt was the primeval seat of what may be called material civilization, and many arts and inventions were known there, when the rest of the world was still in ignorance and barbarism. The public works of the Egyptian kings were also on a grand scale. They united rivers with seas by canals; they transported heavy blocks of stone, of immense weight and magnitude, for their temples, palaces, and tombs. They erected obelisks in single shafts, nearly one hundred feet in height, and engraved their sides from top to bottom with the representations of warriors, priests and captives. They ornamented their vast temples with marvellous frescoes of picture histories, and their obelisks with hieroglyphics or pictorial writings. All these remain to the present day among the wonders of the world—unachievable, imperishable.

The lecture was illustrated by a series of very beautiful stereoscopic views, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all who had the privilege of being present.

Rev. W. Leslie Clay proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Laing at the conclusion of the meeting, which then adjourned until Tuesday evening, October 23rd. Papers and discussion of Browning stand next on the list in the society's programme.

The first foot coverings were sandals. After these came shoes left open at the toes, then the wooden shoes of the ninth and tenth centuries, followed a little later by shoes with long pointed and turned up toes, which, sometimes reached as high as the knee.

Oil painting was an art thoroughly understood by the ancients; but was lost sight of, and only revived about the end of the 13th century A. D.

WATER PROBLEM WILL BE DEBATED TO-NIGHT

At Public Meeting Called by Mayor Morley—Diagrams of Present System Prepared.

This evening ratepayers and the public generally will have another opportunity of hearing the water problem discussed. This question has been before the council for so long now that many citizens are becoming tired of it, and no person realizes this better than His Worship Mayor Morley and the aldermen. But all, especially the former, are determined that it shall not be allowed to drop into oblivion until something definite is decided upon. In the words of the Mayor, more water is sadly needed; in fact it is imperative that there should be some improvement in that direction before another summer. The official mentioned expresses the opinion that to allow the matter to go by the board for another six months would mean that Victorians would feel the need of that refreshing liquid, "Adam's Ale," in 1907 more than ever before, and the experience, he argues, would be far from pleasant. And it is contended that the present system can be improved sufficiently before the next hot weather to tide over the difficulty until water is obtained from another source. The Mayor also believes that this can be done at comparatively small expense.

However, those most directly concerned are determined that a solution of the problem, one that will be satisfactory to the required number of ratepayers, will be reached at the earliest possible moment. It is with this object in view that the Mayor has decided upon to-night's public meeting and subsequent gatherings of the same kind, should they be considered necessary. The intention is, if possible, to do away with any further sessions by making the situation perfectly clear this evening. Therefore, at the Mayor's request, diagrams have been prepared, one showing the mains as they are at the present time, and the other picturing the body of water under a variety of circumstances, and other details which now appear to be known to few of the citizens whose endorsement is needed before the funds required can be raised. Brief addresses will be delivered by Mayor Morley and members of the water committee, after which those present will be invited to express their views. But all remarks will be strictly limited, it being the desire not to waste time in useless debate, but to reach some understanding that will result in the formulation of another by-law that will find favor with the taxpayers of Victoria.

Chief Watson, of the Victoria Fire Department, has prepared an interesting report for presentation to the fire wardens at their next annual meeting. The report is as follows:

Gentlemen—I beg herewith to submit a copy of report on high pressure water supply as adopted by the city of Philadelphia, and which is being adopted by the cities of Winnipeg and Seattle, on a smaller scale. This paper was prepared from reports supplied by John W. Vye, city engineer, and J. R. Bubbie, waterworks expert for the city of Philadelphia, at the request of, and read before, the meeting of the fire chiefs at Calgary last month.

The equipment of the Philadelphia system is without precedent in the history of large fire protection systems, and marks a new era in the introduction of the internal combustion motor.

The high service system at present draws its supply from the Delaware river, the pumping station being located on the river front. After proving its pressure raised to the required amount, the water passes into a 20-inch main along the river front, which supplies 12-inch and 16-inch mains extending into the business district. These are tied together into a network at five points by cross mains. The pipe network consists throughout of cast iron pipe laid in 12-foot lengths, suitable for a working pressure of 300 pounds per square inch. It is provided with expansion joints at intervals of from 20 to 60 feet and long radius sweep bends at all turns; stop valves at every corner, at intermediate points, provide means for isolating damage due to rupture of section of pipe, thus avoiding the crippling of more than one hydrant.

Each hydrant has two 4-inch outlets, to each of which connections may be made, attached, supplying in all six lines of hose. Telephone boxes are provided at each street intersection, communicating with the central office at fire hall headquarters from which operating orders may be transmitted to all points of the system.

As originally laid out, the pipe system was arranged for connection to fireboats along the water front, Three Steamers, therefore, connections were provided at the bulkhead to which the boats might be connected according to the location of the fire. With the establishment of the present pumping station, the fireboats will be held at a reserve to be operated as before. A supplementary source of water supply is provided at the extreme end of the line, where a permanent connection has been made with a 12-inch leading directly from a reservoir, imposing a constant gravity head of 70 to 80 pounds pressure upon the high pressure system, which is sufficient for flushing and locating leaks in the piping. A check valve at the point of connection closes when the station pumps are started, thus automatically maintaining a moderate pressure at all times upon the system.

The utilization of fireboats for serving the high pressure system was adopted as a temporary expedient pending the completion of the central pumping station. These boats are now held as a reserve and are also used for the purpose of pumping water to the water front.

They have an aggregate capacity of 3,000 gallons per minute, have maintained twelve 14-inch streams, connected to the system a mile and a half distant, with an average pressure of 300 pounds at the pump. Four 4-inch streams were similarly maintained with a pressure of 227 pounds at the pump. Under these conditions a loss in pressure of 47 per cent. in the first case and 24 per cent. in the second was observed from pump to hydrant in use. The average horizontal distances covered by the streams were 150 feet and 190 feet, respectively, while a single 2-inch stream covered 335 feet horizontal and 230 feet vertical distance with a pressure of 230 pounds at the pumps.

In the face of these facts, it becomes apparent that for effective service at the point of greatest need, greater power is required than that available with fireboats, by reason of the unavoidable losses occurring in the pipe line.

The central high pressure pumping station was thus evolved from the experience

THREE SPORTS GIVEN THE SAME PRIVILEGES

New System Adopted at Last Evening's Meeting of Park Management-Schedule Drafted.

An exceptionally important meeting of the Oak Bay Park Association was held last evening at which there was a full attendance. The prospects for the winter months were discussed at length and arrangements were made for the distribution of the grounds between the three most popular recreations, namely, Rugby football, Association football and hockey. The trustees were asked to give their attention to the problem of distributing the grounds between the three sports, having had some considerable experience. It was agreed almost without discussion that it would not do to continue the system in vogue hitherto. All were of the opinion that it would never do to permit the playing area to be open to more than two of the sports on one day. With this in mind they proceeded to draft a schedule.

This was a more arduous task than was at first realized, many details cropping up which had to be disposed of before the days were definitely set aside for one or the other of the recreations. In fact the situation was so complicated that it was decided that it would be more satisfactory to complete the programme only as far ahead as the first of December, the end of the year. Up to that time seven days were given the Association football clubs, eight the Rugby football clubs and nine the hockey clubs. It should be explained that as there are two distinct playing areas at Oak Bay, the devotees of two pastimes will be allowed on the grounds at each week end. This on one Saturday Rugby football and hockey may be in full swing, while the Association players will have to find another place to enjoy their sport for that day. This method was adopted only after careful consideration and doubtless the athletes will be the first to acknowledge that only in such a way could the privileges be equitably divided. Although the distribution up to the end of the year does not seem even, before the finish of the season the managers will see that no one line of pastime has an advantage over another.

Before another schedule is drafted there will be three holidays—Thanksgiving Day, Christmas and New Year. How to divide the grounds on these occasions was another question which the managers considered. The first Thanksgiving Day will be called upon to debate last evening. They came to a conclusion which also appears as fair as could be desired and which should prove satisfactory to all concerned. The first Thanksgiving Day will be Rugby day. The Victoria club will have full control of the grounds on that date. They may arrange a match with any team that can be induced to visit Victoria, and will be entitled to grant or refuse any request from outside for the use of the adjoining area. Under any circumstances they will have the total control of the grounds. On Christmas and New Year the players will be in full possession, with the same autocratic powers as those outlined. On New Year the Association football teams will have the same privilege. It is quite likely as a result of this arrangement that the Victoria District Association Football League and any other organization that has already drafted a series of fixtures for the local championships will have to do some re-arranging. This may cause some little inconvenience. Aside from that, however, it is hardly probable that there will be any complaint. As already stated, the management seem to have handled a difficult problem very diplomatically. They have given each club practically the same rights and adopted a system which in the long run is bound to work out perfectly even.

ON THE MAINLAND.
A special meeting of the executive of the Mainland Athletic Association was held at the Terminal City on Monday night at which the Thistles, City and Shamrock clubs decided definitely to play all of their home matches on the Cambie street grounds, Vancouver. The two Thistle players who were put out of the recent Thistle-Shamrock match for unruly conduct were suspended for one month. It was decided to organize Junior and Intermediate leagues.

Sub leagues will be organized in Vancouver and New Westminster and the winners will play off at the end of the season. A contest was appointed to draft a schedule for each series.

MONTHLY MEETING.

Members of the board of management of the James Bay Athletic Association held their regular monthly meeting last evening when a number of interesting reports were received, all announcing gratifying progress. Among the applicants for membership, who were accepted, were the following: N. B. Greasley, Wm. Laird, H. Rookman, J. C. Shaver, Mrs. Mary Edwards, Donald McGregor, John A. Bulger, A. L. Cusack and H. P. Matthews.

After some consideration it was decided to make application for affiliation with the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union. Ed. Tuck, a former member of the J. B. A. A., wrote stating that Tacoma was organizing a boating and canoeing club, and asking for information regarding the rules governing such an association. Upon motion, it was unanimously agreed to forward what is desired without delay.

It was announced that within the next few weeks a new pool table would be installed at the club. It is now on route from Toronto.

Upon suggestion it was decided to keep the base on the Kingston street tennis courts forthwith.

It was arranged that a general meeting should be held next Tuesday evening for the purpose of discussing the organization.

For Family Colds

A reliable cough and cold cure should be always in the house ready for use the moment the first symptoms appear. It is always easier, cheaper and better to check a cold in the very beginning.

It is safe too. Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, has been tested for thirty-three years, and tens of thousands of homes in Canada and the United States to-day are never without it.

A dealer writes: "Shiloh's Consumption Cure is without doubt the best remedy for Coughs and Colds on the market. One used, my children will lay no other."—L. E. Eley, Vancouver, B.C.

If it were anything but the best would this be so? Try it in your own family. If it does not cure you, you get back all your money. We take all the chances. Neither money nor time can be lost. Is it not so? 25c is the price. All dealers in medicine sell.

After the consideration of other matters of minor importance the meeting adjourned.

ARRANGING TRIP.

"At the meeting of the Rugby Union executive held on Monday evening arrangements for the California trip were advanced another stage and everything was reported as moving along very satisfactorily.

"The question of junior Rugby was taken up and discussed at length and a decision was taken to have a junior schedule in full working order inside two or three weeks. Mr. O'Callaghan and Mr. Patterson having the matter in hand. "The selection committee then met and chose a team to play against Nanaimo on Saturday at Recreation park."—Vancouver News-Advertiser.

BOLD POPULAR RACERS.

W. G. Stevenson has sold two of the finest horses that have been seen on the local track, namely, Capt. John and Fannie Putnam. Both have been taken by an Edmonton company. The former, although he has not been before the public for long, is already well known, and local sportsmen will be sorry to hear of his pending departure. Upon the Northwest tracks and on the Sound Capt. John did remarkably well this fall. In Victoria, however, he was somewhat of a disappointment. This is attributed to the fact that the home track has so many comparatively sharp turns. These Capt. John could not manipulate as well as his opponents, being a big horse with a long stride. On the stretches, however, he showed speed that should have put him in the leading place. Fannie Putnam also is a pretty animal and trots well. It is Mr. Stevenson's intention to make the trip to Edmonton, where he will make a protracted sojourn.

MEETING TO-NIGHT.

This evening a meeting of the physical committee of the Y. M. C. A. will be held at the rooms, Broad street. After an informal supper plans for the winter months will be discussed. A full attendance is requested.

THE GUN.

IN PERFECT CONDITION.

Word has been received by J. Musgrave to the effect that the capercaillie and black game imported from Copenhagen, Denmark, arrived at Kamloops yesterday and will be in Vancouver at noon to-day. The telegram containing this announcement also stated that the birds are all in good condition. This is gratifying news indeed. The Vancouver Island Fish and Game Club's share of the birds should reach Victoria to-morrow or Friday. At any rate, it is hoped that they will be distributed on Saturday.

this method may be adopted, and that the unedifying form now followed will disappear from our courts. No doubt any witness may require to be sworn in this fashion, but, save in the Lambeth County court and in the courts presided over by His Honor Judge Enderby, we are unaware of any tribunal where the Scottish form is always used unless the witness desires to be sworn on the Testament. Witnesses are in nearly every case unaware of any other form save "kissing the book," but, if it were brought to their notice that they might avoid this risk of contagion, it would be gladly accepted. The practice, however, of August 25th spoke in strong language of this practice. ## Why Not Try?

There's no use getting mad if that For Sale sign you stuck on the front of your vacant house has not brought you a tenant or purchaser. Your sign has been read and re-read by practically the same people, who pass by it every day and who are too intent on other things to stop and look over the property. Now, if you would advertise in the real estate columns of the Times it would come before the eyes of all the people looking for real estate. This is because they are accustomed to have the Times tell them what property in Victoria may be had.

SAYS SCOTCHMEN
LOOK TO CANADASIR JOHN LENG BELIEVES IN THE PACIFIC COAST

Veteran Newspaper Proprietor Revisits the Coast After an Absence of Thirty Years.

"You can't send us too many good Scotchmen," was what Sir Wilfrid Laurier remarked when I left him last fall," said Sir John Leng at the Driford hotel this afternoon. One of the grand old men of Scotland, he carries a burden of 75 years with the greatest ease, although he remarked rather pathetically, "I used to travel from strength to strength, now it seems from weakness to weakness." But that merely appeared the result of a temporary indisposition, for his ruddy countenance and activity belied the truth of such a remark.

"As a result of Sir Wilfrid's suggestion," he continued, "I wrote a series of articles and, as a result, over 2,000 Scotchmen left Dundee, my home, this year bound for Canada. And do you not think that Scotchmen are amongst the best class of immigrants? If a good Scotchman goes anywhere and succeeds, as he usually does, he writes home and tells his friends, which is the best kind of advertisement."

"But why do not more come to British Columbia?" asked the reporter. "Is there not the matter of distance?" queried Sir John in reply. "In the case of British Columbia, from what I saw thirty years ago, I think the Pacific coast from Southern California up is much better adapted than the eastern states for supporting a large British population. Only provide facilities for immigrants reaching western Canada and when the need of labor, the rate of payment for it, and what I might call the hygienic advantages are known I am certain a large number of Scotchmen will come."

"I was struck, when I came up the coast in 1876 to find, in Oregon particularly, men with ruddy faces such as are rarely seen in the East. They were good big men, stalwart, with smiling faces and seemed to enjoy life. You are exempt from the severe winters they have in Eastern Canada. Does it ever snow in Victoria?"

"Yes, sometimes," the reporter had to admit, "but it never stays very long."

"I thought not," continued Sir John with a smile. "Looking forward to the future, I have but little doubt that large communities of the latter race, much larger than any settlement present here, will be born in British Columbia. It's a good country and has a bright future before it."

Sir John Leng is one of the best known newspaper proprietors of Scotland. Although born in Hull, England, in 1828, he went across the Cheviots when 20 years old and has since remained in North Britain. He purchased the Dundee Advertiser in 1863, and subsequently established the People's Journal, People's Friend and the Evening Telegraph. He has made these household words throughout every Scotch settlement in the world. His extensive travels have resulted in numerous books, among the most important being "American Competition With English Agriculture," "Nationalization, the Dream of the Labor Party," and "Home Rule All Round."

Outside travelling, his principal recreation, is yachting and boating, and he has been commodore of the Newport Boating Club. He was for many years M. P. for Dundee.

The party will leave for Seattle tomorrow, after visiting as many points of interest round Victoria as possible during their short stay.

MORE WITNESSES SUMMONED.

(Special to the Times.)

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—James White, vice-president of the Ottawa Liberal Association; James Hunter, private secretary to Hon. C. S. Hyman; and Mr. Lamont, the clerk of the crown-in-chancery, have been summoned in the London election case.

The barkentine Planter has returned to Everett after being eight days at sea in a waterlogged condition.

PROVINCIAL PREMIERS
PRESENT THEIR CLAIMS(Special to the Times.)
Ottawa, Oct. 10.—The representatives at the provincial conference met Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Messrs. Flelding, Aylesworth and Lemieux this forenoon.

The resolutions on the financial terms, which were finally passed upon by the provinces, were presented to the Dominion ministers. Their provisions have already been explained. A saving clause is added permitting those provinces which are not altogether prepared to subscribe to the Quebec resolutions to urge their special claims for consideration.

LOCAL NEWS.

A meeting of the school board will be held this evening, when the new member, Mr. McKinnon, will take his seat. The business is understood, will be largely of a routine character.

A fatal accident was narrowly averted at the Moore &amp; Whittington mills yesterday. One of the employees who was working alone upon the logs, slipped and fell into the water. He was unable to swim, and sank before help arrived. C. Parman, jumping on a raft, paddled out and grasped the struggling man by the hair just as he was about to disappear the third time. He was brought ashore and resuscitated, and shortly afterwards left apparently little the worse for his mishap.

At a meeting of the manufacturing committee of the Victoria Tourist &amp; Development Association, which was held yesterday morning, it was decided that the permanent exhibit at the Port street apartments should be more representative. The committee agreed to make an effort in that direction, and it is expected that all manufacturers will respond to the call. A communication from Mr. Martindale, of Seattle, announcing that an exhibit of produce from that district would be sent was received with gratification. After the consideration of other general business the meeting adjourned.

The following are the musical arrangements for the St. Barnabas Church Harvest Festival on Tuesday at 8 p. m. when Rev. G. F. Clinton, of Vancouver, will be the preacher: Violin and Organ, "I waited for the Lord," Mendelssohn; Processional Hymn, No. 352; Proper Psalms, 66, 149, 150; Magnificat Nuno Dimittis, Adams in D; Anthem "O give thanks unto the Lord," Sydney Hymn number 286; Hymn, Anthem, number 391, W. H. Jude; Organ, hymn, Fitzgerald; Anthem, "When thou hast gathered in thy corn," Simpson; Vesper, "It will be done in peace," Recessional Hymn, number 381; Organ "March of Priests," Mendelssohn.

One who is regarded in Socialistic circles as the finest speaker who has visited the Pacific coast is Prof. Walter Thomas Mills, of Chicago, who lectured in the old Grand theatre last evening before a fair audience. His subject was "The Social Problem," on which he spoke, with the exceptions of a few interruptions, from 8 until 11 o'clock. He predicted that Socialism is coming in spite of all things to the contrary, and that such men as John D. Rockefeller, with their immense wealth, are only hastening the day when it would be here. Towards the close of his address the lecturer invited a debate for those who opposed him. Professor Mills will speak in Vancouver this evening.

Beginning on Monday next there will be a change in the tramway service on the Gorge line. For the winter months the cars will run over that line every half hour only, instead of the twenty minute service, which has been in vogue all summer. On special occasions the service will be improved to suit the needs. Under the new schedule the passengers for the Gorge line will take the Esquimalt car on the hour and half hour and connection will then be afforded with the car along the track to the Gorge. The cars from the Gorge to the city will commence running at 6:25 in the morning, and the last one will leave at 11:50. The service along the extended Douglas line will be begun very shortly. It is expected. The delay is occasioned by the fact that some double tracking is yet to be completed.

Everybody Smokes Old Chum.

Shipping

Advice has been received from the Orient reporting that the next scheduled inbound trip of the steamship Montague has been cancelled and the vessel will not be here for probably three months. The Montague is the C. P. R. liner which recently met with a mishap in a typhoon at Hongkong. It is stated that she broke her shaft and will have to be docked for repairs, but full particulars of her accident have not yet been forthcoming.

FELT EARTHQUAKE.

The British ship Tellos, which has just arrived on the Sound from the South, reports having been badly shaken by the earthquake which brought disaster to Valparaiso. Capt. Robert Jones, master of the vessel, reports that the shock caused his ship to tremble like a leaf and that all his anchors were shaken loose and his chains ran out full length. Other than slight damages caused by the anchors, however, the ship was not injured.

INBOUND EMPRESS.

R. M. S. Empress of Japan left Yokohama for Victoria at 5 p. m. on the 4th inst. She will be due here on the 16th inst. The ship has 50 tons of freight for Victoria and a total number of 35 saloon passengers.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The steamship Inverlor left Vancouver yesterday, where she will receive lumber cargo.

Steamer Unatilla is due from San Francisco, to-morrow night.

The time used in Pacific Standard, for the 10th meridian west, is counted from 9 to 12 o'clock, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water.

The height is measured from the level of the low water at spring tide. This level corresponds with the datum to which the soundings on the Admiralty chart of Victoria harbor are referred, as closely as can now be ascertained.

SWIMMING FOR A PRISONER.

A London police constable had an exciting experience when he had to swim for a prisoner in the Regent's canal. Two lads, Albert Gladden and John Meredith, were concerned in stealing a watch and chain and bid, in cash from Albert San. While San was walking on the towpath of the Regent's canal the two lads struck him with a belt and rifed his pockets. He called for help, and a constable opportunely dropped over the side of the canal. The constable dived into the canal, and the constable swam after him, making an arrest on the other side of the waterway. The next day the two lads were brought up at the North London police court, and Mr. Fordham sentenced Gladden to six weeks, and Meredith to fourteen days' hard labor.

TIGRESS TAKES SNUFF.

An officer of the Bengal Lancers who was seized by a tigress owed his escape to a curious accident. The tigress seized him by the breast of his coat and shook him till he became unconscious. On recovering, he heard a strange noise at a little distance, as if someone was sneezing violently. It was the tigress herself. He slowly turned round and gave a further glance in that direction. He could hardly believe his eyes. There was the tigress sneezing off with her tail very much between her legs, and sneezing most violently and making the most atrocious grimaces. The truth dawned upon him like a flash of lightning in the operation of shaking him his snuff box had flown open from his waistcoat pocket, and the tigress had received the contents in her face.
